DETAILED ACTION

This office action is responsive to communication filed on 08/16/02.

Claim Objections

Claims 1 and 7 are objected to because of the following informalities: It is suggested to insert – an – before e-mail transmitter (claim 1, line 2), and – a – before terminal (claim 1, line 3). Please delete “ an ” before recipient (claim 7, line 1) and insert – a --. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 – 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bilbrey et al (US 2002/0103932; hereinafter Bilbrey)).

Regarding claims 1, 2, 7, and 11, Bilbrey teaches an e-mail system and method (1600, fig. 16A), comprising e-mail transmitter (102, fig. 16A; Bilbrey discloses a sponsor 102) having a plurality of recipient addresses (paragraphs [0080], lines 14 – 22; [0081], lines 1 - 9); and terminal (106, fig. 16A) connected to said e-mail transmitter through a network (108, fig. 16A) for editing a reference list including one or more recipient addresses to be updated among said plurality of recipient addresses, said e-mail system includes an update function for updating said recipient addresses by referencing said reference list edited by said terminal (paragraphs [0082] – [0085]).

Regarding claim 3, Bilbrey teaches the e-mail system according to claim 1, further comprising a server for performing said update function based on a request sent from said e-mail transmitter (paragraph [0083]).

Regarding claim 4, Bilbrey teaches the e-mail system according to claim 1, wherein said reference list contains at least one new recipient address to replace at least one of said plurality of recipient addresses held by said e-mail transmitter (paragraphs [0057] – [0058]).

Regarding claim 5, Bilbrey teaches the e-mail system according to claim 1, wherein said reference list contains at least one recipient address to be deleted from among said plurality of recipient addresses held by said e-mail transmitter (paragraphs [0102] and [0108]).

Regarding claim 6, Bilbrey teaches the e-mail system according to claim 1, wherein said reference list contains at least one recipient address to be added to said plurality of recipient addresses held by said e-mail transmitter (paragraphs [0057], [0103] – [0105]).

Regarding claim 8, Bilbrey teaches the recipient address list updating method according to claim 7, wherein said update of said first recipient address list is performed by referencing said difference list on a regular basis (paragraphs [0061], [0062], and [0080]).

Regarding claim 9, Bilbrey teaches the recipient address list updating method according to claim 7, wherein said update of said first recipient address list is performed in response to an indication of the generation of said difference list (paragraph [0058]).

Regarding claim 10, Bilbrey teaches the recipient address list updating method according to claim 7, wherein said difference list includes at least one of (i) at least one address to replace, (ii) at least one address to be deleted from, and (iii) at least one address to be added to, the plurality of addresses contained in said first recipient address list; and said step of updating said first recipient address list comprises at least one of (i) the replacement of the at least one address to be replaced, (ii) the deletion of the at least one address to be deleted, and (iii) the addition of the at least one address to be added (paragraphs [0102] - [0108]).

Regarding claims 12 - 14, Bilbrey teaches a computer apparatus for updating a recipient address list containing a plurality of recipient addresses to which given information is sent (1600, fig. 16A), comprising: replacement module for replacing a recipient address contained in said recipient address list with a different recipient address (paragraphs [0057] – [0058]); deletion module for deleting a given recipient address from among the plurality of recipient addresses contained in said recipient address list (paragraphs [0102] and [0108]); addition module for adding a new recipient address to said recipient address list (paragraphs [0057], [0103] – [0105]); and reference list storage for storing a reference list containing said different recipient address to be replaced, said recipient address to be deleted, and said new recipient address to be added (paragraphs [0095], [0099]).

Regarding claim 15, Bilbrey teaches the computer apparatus according to claim 14, wherein said recipient address list stored in said recipient address list storage is updated by at least one of said replacement module, said deletion module, and said addition module (paragraphs [0102] - [0108]).).

Regarding claim 16, Bilbrey teaches the computer apparatus according to claim 12, further comprising an input module for obtaining said recipient address list stored on a computer apparatus other than said computer apparatus (paragraphs [0095], [0099]).

Regarding claim 17, Bilbrey teaches the computer apparatus according to claim 12, wherein said obtained recipient address list is updated by at least one of said replacement module, said deletion module, and said addition module and said computer apparatus further comprises an output module for outputting said updated recipient address list to said another computer apparatus (paragraphs [0095], [0099]).

Regarding claim 18, Bilbrey teaches a computer apparatus for updating a recipient address list containing recipient addresses to which given information is sent (1600, fig. 16A), comprising: storage module for storing a difference list consisting of addresses that are differences between a first recipient address list before an update and a second recipient address list after the update (paragraphs [0095], [0099]); and display module for displaying said difference list (paragraphs [0076], [0079]).

Regarding claim 19, Bilbrey teaches the computer apparatus according to claim 18, wherein said storage stores at least one of (i) at least one new recipient address to replace one of the recipient addresses contained in said recipient address list, (ii) at least one recipient address to be deleted from among the recipient addresses contained in said recipient address list, and (iii) at least one recipient address to be added (paragraphs [0057] – [0058]).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Jakob Nielsen (US Patent Number 6,405,243) discloses a method and system for updating email addresses.
